Pirates Walk Plank Behind Sequoits Fire; Ela Here Friday Night

Frosh-Soph Wins Overtime From Palatine 35-31; Heads League

Moving into a second-place, tied with Palatine through defeat of the Pirates there last Friday night, 52 to 47, the Antioch Sequoits will try to keep up the pace when they play Ela-Vernon here tomorrow night.

The Sequoits won from the Bears earlier in the season at Lake Zurich, 47 to 46. El-Vernon is a spasmodic playing team, outplaying the conference leading Grant Bulldogs for three quarters of last week's game, then losing in the final quarter.

It was Antioch's ability to connect from the free-throw line that won the game at Palatine. Tommy Gudgeon scored only six points during the evening, all of them from the free throw line, four of them came in the final 10 seconds of the game and made certain the Antioch victory.

Jerry Huml was high scorer for the evening with 18 points, 10 from the charity stripe. He went out on fouls, however, with 6 minutes remaining in the game. Art Hanke, second high with 16 points, also fouled out with four minutes yet to go.

Antioch led at the quarter 9-6, at the half, 23-19, and at the third quarter 34-27. Minus the leading scorers in the final quarter, Antioch scored but 18 points to Palatine's 20, but managed to salvage the game.

Twenty-one Per Cent Of A.T.H.S. Students Achieve Honor Roll

Twenty-one per cent of the high school enrollment has achieved honor roll status for the first half of the school year at the Antioch High School. One hundred nineteen pupils have done at least B average work for the 18-week grading period. This would indicate that almost one-quarter of the local high school students are attaining high scholastic achievement in the various areas of the academic program.

Rte. 45 to Be Surfaced, Rte. 41 to Be Changed

The $9.7 million highway improvement program for Illinois this year includes improvement of Rte. 45 from the Illinois-Wisconsin state line to Grand ave.

The cost from the state line to Rte. 173 is estimated at $192,000 and from there to Grand ave. is $478,000. The highway will be resurfaced.

Also on the program, is the widening and re-routing of Rte. 41 from a point one-half mile from the northern end of the new toll road to the Wisconsin boundary. This calls for an expenditure of $775,000 and $25,000 for the right of way purchase.

CAREERS UNLIMITED

Tens of thousands of teenagers are now filling jobs in food chains, according to Chain Store Age. A study by the magazine shows that one-third of all employees in the average chain are teenagers, with the figure running to 50 per cent in many. It quotes an industry leader in saying that 90 per cent of the executive and supervisory personnel started as store clerks, delivery boys or checkers.

There are some 245 job classifications in the food distribution field, and most of these positions require executive ability. The manager of a modern supermarket, for instance, is frequently responsible for millions in sales and for scores of employees. To secure the needed potential executives, the chains use special brochures, school visits, training programs, scholarships, and so on. And, once the young person is employed, he is given intensive training to help his advancement.

The food chains, of course, are not the only form of retailing which offers opportunity to young people of promise. All the other forms do too. Retailing has come a long way in the last generation or so. It grows more and more competitive. Consumers demand ever-improving service. The successful retailer, chain or otherwise, must everlastingly search for ways to please the public and attract trade. It is a fascinating business, always changing, always going ahead. And it is a business which provides splendid career possibilities to young men and women with ambition and aptitude.

Grass Roots Opinion

ELOY, ARIZONA, ENTERPRISE: "Pat, what's this I hear about ye joining up with the communists? Be ye daft, man?" It's the truth, Mike. I signed up last week. The doctor told me I had but ten days to live and 'tis better one o' them communists die than a good Irishman."

GREENFIELD, IND., DAILY REPORTER: "... the little horse jockey by the name of Billy Pearson who last year won on the $64,000 question on the subject of great art, became a champion and since has been on the 'Challenge' and won another $32,000 in that contest. Just an interesting sidelight—out of the last $32,000 he won, after taxes he only got to keep $2,000.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., INDUSTRIAL PRESS: "We have always felt, that the present pressure to bring the Federal Government into public school systems of the nation by the subterfuge of 'financial aid' would be the beginning of the end of our traditionally free system of education."

CORVALLIS, OREGON, GAZETTE-TIMES: "All forms of government spending in fiscal 1956 hit a record of $114,000,000,000, equivalent to 30 per cent of the whole national income. That means that 30 cents of every dollar we make in this country goes into government. That's our most serious economic problem."

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., TIMES: "With rain, snow, slush and road residues on the highway there is a continuous spray of film against windshields with resulting poor visibility. Courtesy on the highway could do much to reduce this hazard."

NEWPORT BEACH, CALIF., NEWS PRESS: "The Government Has No Money Except What It Takes From the People." That reads like a sage bit of wisdom which we might hope to find over the entrances of some of our government buildings in Washington, and which could be repeated on placards in every office in every federal government bureau."

Team Mates

In mid-November, at a time when another bountiful U. S. farm harvest had been completed, the magazine, Implement & Tractor, published an apt article on the relationship of the farmer and the farm implement dealer. They must have many of the same qualifications if they are to be successful—both, for instance, have to be alert businessmen, efficient administrators, and students of the ever-changing farm situation.

As Implement & Tractor truly puts it: "... the farm equipment dealer has linked his future to the progressiveness and the labor-saving ability of farm equipment, the product of the inventive genius and production skills of industry, which will bring him each year new profit-making developments in modern farm equipment. As team mates the farmer and his farm equipment dealer need each other. Their mutual dependence and combined effort will win as they serve together in improving our material welfare.

Moreover, a close relationship between the dealer and the farmer will help each to better understand the problems of the other. For example, there has been some resentment because farm equipment prices have risen. That resentment, in most cases, is the fault of a lack of knowledge of certain facts—one being that the costs the equipment industry must pay have gone up, and another being that today's machines are more productive and thus basically more economical than those of the past.

These team mates can work together to the benefit of all.

You're a Government Worker

Taxpayer's Dollar, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, passes on this definition of a taxpayer—"... a person who doesn't have to pass a Civil Service test to work for the government."

That's more than a good gag. A man with two dependents who earns $80 a week must work 4.9 weeks to meet his tax bill. If he has no dependents, he has to work 8.2 weeks. And, of course, the tax rates rise with almost bullet-like rapidity as incomes rise—and the amount of time a man has to work for the government rises with them.

So, in this fashion, we're all government workers. And we have to do a great deal more work on behalf of government than most of us realize.

Vast Difference

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (The Mormon Church) owns a remarkably long and varied list of business enterprises, including a bank, an insurance company, a department store, a sugar company, a coal mine, ranches and so on.

But in this case, there is one vast difference from most business undertakings which are carried on by essentially non-profit organizations such as churches. A factual article on the Mormon ventures in the Wall Street Journal states: "The church insists on paying full Federal taxes on all profits from business activities, though legally it could often claim exemptions." This country could use more of that kind of spirit and principle.

Bennett, Director of the Automotive Division of the National Association of Automobile Mutual Insurance Companies, said some judges try to enhance their personal reputations by being suckers for a sob story.

He questions whether some members of the bench striving to be "fair" take into consideration many things not connected with the traffic violation. "Does he discriminate between offenders on the basis of economic level—whether they have an attorney—or whether a drunk driver could make a living if his license is revoked?"

Police officers who "passes" to traffic violators who are polite and tickets to violators who "squawk" also came in for criticism by Bennett. "Within all probability, the polite violators actually committed the offenses for which they were stopped—but having been apprehended frequently they have learned to 'worm passes' out of policemen," Bennett said.

He asked whether some officers fail to see violations because they dislike to have people punished or don't wish to go to court on their own time.

Motor vehicle license examiners also were criticized for giving unfit persons driver's licenses out of "sympathy."

Bennett told members of the Institute that all sorts of excuses have advanced for not doing a good job of controlling traffic accidents. Too much horsepower in cars, poor highway designs, public apathy, teen-age drivers and speed demons have been blamed, Bennett said.

"Everyone of these is a lame excuse. Excuses are diversionary. They focus attention away from potential solutions like enforcement."

Bennett said the three "E's" of traffic safety—education, engineering and enforcement are important—but that enforcement, applied everywhere vigorously would be immediately effective in reducing accidents.

He urged mayors and governors as Commanders-in-Chief of their jurisdictions to declare "war" on highway accidents with a long range, intelligently administered law enforcement program. But he urged proponents not to be disheartened by early failure or public resistance. "It took a long time for the automobile," Bennett said, "to accomplish the chaos which exists today and it's going to take a long time to straighten it out."

The Boston Herald and the News Review of Riverhead, New York, were jointly honored by the Institute at the meeting for their outstanding service last year in the safety field.

Law Enforcement Officials Blamed for Auto Deaths

Boston—January 23 —A Midwest safety authority tonight blasted law enforcement officials for laxity in the death of over 40,200 persons on the nation's highways last year.

Richard O. Bennett, speaking in Boston before the annual meeting of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company's Institute for Safer Living, said "We've been concerning ourselves too long with only drivers and pedestrians in traffic safety. Should we not examine the reasons why public officials fail to do the things they know will control traffic accidents? "It is high time that we give a little attention to those who have the authority and the opportunity to control traffic accidents but do not," Bennett said.

Accusing some public officials of "dragging their feet" on traffic law enforcement, he said, "What about the judge who handles traffic cases? Is he selfishly dishing out small fines, suspended sentences and giving outright dismissals to insure himself a long judicial life."

Tax Facts

"You can't tell the players without a program," the familiar hawking cry at ball games, also applies to the operation of the Illinois General Assembly. Such a "program" has just been issued by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

The 1957 Legislative Manual and Facts contains a wealth of material based upon 12 prior years of publication. In addition to presenting informational listings on members of the General Assembly and Congress, the 36 page booklet also contains many other items of importance to those interested in government. School and reference libraries are among the many requesting copies.

A graphic story, "Life-or-Death-of-a-Bill" shows the steps in passage of legislation. Also included is a series of graphs portraying trends in Illinois economic health and in the cost of Illinois government. Charts and tables give the sources of Illinois revenue and the purpose of expenditures. Additional tables provide a historical review of income and outgo.

Listings of newspaper correspondents, wire services and statewide organizations with Springfield headquarters are also included for the convenience of users. The widely used booklet, popular with legislators, public organizations and citizens generally, even includes a map of downtown Springfield.

Together with other useful information, this legislative manual provides the "program" by which Illinois taxpayers can watch the development of the "game" in Springfield.

Can better than $5 billion be cut from the new Federal Budget? At least that much can be saved if the Hoover Report recommendations are adopted. The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois through its Illinois Hoover Report Division is again taking the statewide lead in working for adoption of the Hoover Commission recommendations. A part of the national committee, the Illinois Hoover Report Division was established in 1954 to spearhead the Illinois campaign in support of the Second Hoover Commission Report.

More legislation to support the Commission report has already been introduced in the new Congress, such as the bill putting the federal appropriations on an accrued basis. Known as the Kennedy-Payne-Byrd Bill it has bipartisan sponsorship with 45 other Senators.

John Stuart, regional vice chairman of the national Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report serves as chairman of the Division with Arnold B. Keller as co-chairman. Mrs. Eleanor Hoover is state secretary of the Division with offices in Chicago and John W. McKee is downstate secretary with offices at the Federation headquarters in Springfield.

Created by Congress on a bipartisan basis in 1953, the Second Hoover Commission was empowered to make recommendations on policy matters. There has been no action on 81% of the recommendations and naturally those matters will be given priority this year. Only 13% have been fully implemented; and additional 26% are now being installed.

The Taxpayers' Federation today thanked the many volunteer speakers who are explaining the program throughout Illinois.

McKee recommended the new pamphlet, "Laying the Foundation for Better Government," available at the Hoover Report Division offices at 79 West Monroe, Chicago 3, Ill.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PARENTS OF OUR TOWN:
Reading accounts of the recent tragedy plastered over the front pages of the newspapers set me to thinking about our town and the appalling situation now in existence. I thought about early dating, the child marriages, the forced marriages, the late unchaperoned parties, the smoking among youngsters of thirteen and fourteen on their way to school. The buses going past almost empty and private cars filled to capacity with boys and girls shooting out of the high school parking area like jet bombers... bound for anyplace but home... It set me to wondering... who's children are doing these things... yours?... Mine? Is all this going on without the knowledge and sanction of parents? Who sets up the rules of conduct of today's teen-agers? Let me answer that!

A few determined, spoiled, self-willed children who have indifferent parents. These self-styled leaders set the pace in clothes, action and conduct. The rest follow the leader and the parents of these suffer... yes, suffer. Have you been called "Stuffy" suspicious, Narrow-minded and evil-minded"? Have you had to say "No" a dozen times a week and give a plausible answer to questions such as these: Why can't I date at 14, kids in seventh grade do and I'm a freshman. Everyone goes to the skating rink in some boy's car... why does Dad or you have to drive me there? Why can't I ride in cars... EVERYONE does!! No one else's parents call to see if the party is chaperoned... why do you? I don't smoke because you asked me not to... but every one else does in my class. Don't you trust me?

I thought we had raised a happy uninhibited child until she reached Teen-age. Now we have a tearful, sullen, unhappy girl... unhappy because she is not allowed to do "anything everyone does". No child likes to be different. We are told that at this age the child is concerned only in being like the rest... Are we to toss away our time-tested traditions and morals so she can follow the crowd? Are indifferent parents and teen-age hoodlums setting the standards of living for our families? We sympathize with foreign nations fighting for freedom and we and our children are governed right here in our own community by slacker parents with unruly brats.

Let us have the gumption to manifest our convictions saying "No, No, No," until the right and good prevails. I'll finish on this note, quoting a famous statesman: "We parents had all better hang together, or we'll be hanging separately."

Treasury Department Publishes Tax Guide

The Government has taken another step in its campaign to bring a working knowledge of income taxation to the taxpayer. Following the success and enthusiastic reception of the booklet "Your Federal Income Tax" the Treasury department has published another "how-to-do-it" booklet called "A Tax Guide for Small Business."

This new booklet is devoted solely to the tax problems of the small business man and covers income, excise and employment taxes incurred by sole proprietorships, partnerships, and small corporations. Its 128 pages explain in easy-to-understand language the common problems resulting from the establishment of a new business, from its operation, and from its sale or other disposition. Realistic examples, two fine indexes, and numerous sub-headings in the Guide's thirty chapters make it easy to work with.

Also available for the self-help tax expert is the latest edition of the official publication "Your Federal Income Tax." This popular booklet gives plain, non-technical answers to most problems encountered on income tax returns of individuals. Either of the guides costs thirty cents.

Copies of "Your Federal Income Tax" and "Tax Guide for Small Business" may be obtained from the Department of Commerce, 226 South Jackson, Chicago 6, from the public service offices of Chicago metropolitan newspapers, and from the District Director, 22 West Madison, Chicago 2.

Science In Your Life

It's Got You Covered

Weather or not you subscribe to any particular plan, you are covered by health insurances all your life. This "insurance policy" is your skin—one of the busiest, most important organs of your body.

More than a mere container for the body, your skin is a barrier against diseases. It is a built-in heat pump, regulating body temperature in hot weather or cold. Another important function of the skin is its power of excretion, which helps to regulate both body temperature and the salt content of body fluids. The skin receives and transmits the senses of touch, pain, heat and cold, while it encases in a protective sheath delicate tissue that cannot survive exposure to air or sunlight. Diseases of the skin, therefore, can disrupt the economy of the whole body. Most skin diseases are characterized by itching, swelling and oozing, and are often complicated by infection.

Medical research, taking advantage of the skin's power to absorb, has developed fast-acting drugs against skin inflammation and infection. The newest, called Neo-Magnacort ointment, combines a hormone-like substance (Magna-cort) with an antibiotic (neomycin) to clear up the infection while it quells the irritation.

Skin diseases, though rarely fatal, keep thousands of people from work each day, make life uncomfortable for thousands more.

With today's scientific discoveries, however, the doctor can give prompt accurate relief to sufferers of skin diseases.

Veterans May Be Eligible For Pension Benefits Now

The Illinois Veterans' Commission today urged widows of World War I veterans, who were disqualified for pension benefits from the government due to income limitations, to apply for 1957 payments if they anticipate an income below the set limitation.

Pension benefits are granted widows who meet all qualifications and whose income is less than $1,400 without dependents or $2,700 with dependents.

Eligible widows who file a statement of anticipated income may be placed on the pension rolls.

Widows of World War I veterans may also qualify, provided the veteran was receiving or entitled to receive compensation at the time of death, even though the veterans was not service connected.

All widows who feel they may be entitled to pension benefits are urged to visit their nearest IVC Office. The Service Officer in charge will provide the necessary application forms and will assist in their completion.

In Lake County, veterans should contact the Illinois Veterans' Commission Service Officer at 221 Washington Street in Waukegan, Ill.

The Office is open daily between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. and on Saturday until noon.

New Cash Rent Lease Form Now Available

A new cash rent lease form is now available, reports Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County Farm Adviser. Developed at the University of Ill., this new lease carries several new features of interest to landowners and tenants. Suggestions for completing and using the Illinois Cash Farm Lease are included with each copy of the lease form.

With this new lease form, it is possible to choose a flat rental rate per acre or a stated amount of crop or livestock products.

For example on grain farms, the annual cash might be $25 an acre, but if the owner and tenant agreed, they might draw up the lease to provide for a rent of 20 bushels of corn an acre. If they did so, they would also state the market and time for determining a price to convert the rent to a cash figure. For example, they might agree to use the highest price at the local elevator during May.

In dairy areas of northern Ill., where cash leases are often used, the rent might be 400 pounds of milk an acre. The price might be the blend price on the Chicago market for November.

Other features of the new lease include an amendment providing a refund to the tenant if he makes improvements at his own expense and moves before they fully depreciate; putting into writing such definite management and business procedures as cropping plans, reimbursements to the tenant for his cost in lime, phosphate and potash that are unused when the lease is terminated; and a disaster clause for use in case crop yields drop more than 50 percent below the county average.

A cash lease may be more satisfactory to some owners and tenants than to others. F. J. Reiss, who developed the new cash lease lists some of these situations:

The owner may wish to get on a retired status with respect to social security benefits. An owner who is completely dependent upon the farm for income for living expenses may like the regular and dependable cash rental payments.

An absentee owner who cannot give supervision needed at harvesting and marketing times may find a cash lease a good alternative. A tenant renting from a disinterested owner may find this type of lease to his advantage in solving soil fertility problems.

A growing market for U. S. coking coal for use in steel-making is forecast as a result of industrialization of India.

You expected Newness—

BUT THIS BEATS ALL!

In looking over this year's new cars, more and more people find that the newest of them all is Buick.

On the road is where you realize what all this means.

You feel a new obedience—a great and wondrous new lift—in the answer of Buick's big new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine teamed to an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo—instant Dynaflo.

You feel a new safety, a new solidity in the massive new chassis that "nests" the car to the lowest center of gravity in Buick history—yet without sacrificing an inch in wheel size or vital road clearance.

But you ought to get this news where it happens—at the wheel of the newest new Buick yet.

That way you can also see for yourself how much more interior room you enjoy in the lowest Buick ever—even how much safer you feel with Buick's exclusive Safety-Minder* telling you with an insistent buzz when you reach the miles-per-hour you pre-choose for yourself.

Scouts Beat Cary; Lose To Morrisons Of Elgin and Bristol

(By Nick Ryan)

The Antioch Scouts lost their second and third games in succession as the powerful Elgin Morrisons stopped them 92-76 and then Bristol beat them 78-67. The Scouts picked up a win over Cary, however 77-66.

The Scouts played the Morrisons for the second time this season and lost 92-76 as Gary Smith and big Bob Peterson spearheaded the Elgin attack. The Scouts had beaten the Morrisons in a previous game and remain as the only team to do so this season; Elgin has won 18.

The complete lack of a reserve hurt the Scouts' chances. The game was played with only five players dressed.

The Morrisons took a 20-17 first quarter lead and proceeded to stretch it to a 49-39 halftime score. The third quarter was played to a deadlock and the Morrisons led 69-59. The final period saw the Scouts draw to within 5 points but slip back. The final score was 92-76.

Gary Smith was high in the game with 30 points and Al Reckers pumped in 27 while Jerry Quilty racked up 21 points. Peterson and Schmidgull tallied 18 each for the Morrisons squad.

The Scouts lost to scrappy Bristol team before a handsome crowd in the Antioch gym.

The Scouts held a 22-20 lead going into the second period of the hard fought game. The Bristol team came back to tie the score at halftime 32-32. Third period saw the Scouts jump to a 5-point lead but only 54-52 at its end. The fourth period saw the Scouts pull 7-points ahead with 4 minutes to go. Bristol exploded and crushed the lead and walk away to 78-67 win.

Al Reckers led the scorers with 24 points but Bristol had the next three top scorers in Skora with 17, Swartz with 16, and Nigio with 15. Bill Baird and Jack Palmer scored 12 and 13 points respectively.

Win from Cary 77-66
The Scouts finally bounced back with a victory as they smashed Cary 77-66. It was Cary's second loss to the Scouts.

The Scouts led from the start of the game and were on top 24-10 at the end of the first period. Cary fought well in the second period, but were down 40-27 at the half. Next quarter found Cary, still clinging, behind 56-47. The fourth period saw the Scouts break lose again to win 77-66.

Sid Parker led the Scouts with 15 points. Sid recently lost his High School eligibility and has joined the Scouts. Al Reckers racked up 14 while Balistreri got 12 and Baird and Palmer scored 10 each. Jim Feffer was high for Cary with 20 and Dick Feffer scored 13.

U. of I. Consumer Service Sizes Up Food Markets

CHICAGO— Beef, potatoes and gravy easily becomes the top menu of the week in this the nation's No. 1 beef center, as the little pig that came to market in increasing numbers soared to new highs instead of tumbling prices as expected.

For variety, round out the menu with selected lamb items, or turkey and lower priced fryers. At breakfast serve top-value, low-priced eggs. Cook with retail-promoted, branded vegetable fats and oils that also are lower priced, and you have this week's market opportunities well in hand.

The University of Illinois consumer service, sizing up Chicago-area retail food markets, also points out that homemakers who want to lay in home freezer supplies can do very well in purchasing forequarter beef cuts and steaks, and forequarter lamb.

Buyers showed obvious expressions of amazement as porkers moved to a 19 month high in increased stockyard arrivals that many expected would drop prices sooner. This is considered to be the midwest peak in price and with eastern buyers leaving the Chicago scene, more supplies are expected to remain at home. Prices should drop in a couple weeks.

Meanwhile, fresh vegetable prices jumped sharply at all market levels on reports of weather-damaged crops, with the major exception of potatoes, tomatoes and lettuce. Potatoes are the subject of over supply. Tomatoes are little more than half the asking price of a year ago. And lettuce abounds in better quality and supply at lowest prices of many weeks.

This leads the U of I to spot as top values for the week ending Feb. 2 sirloin, porterhouse and round steaks, and chuck, standing rib and rump roasts; selected lamb items; turkey and fryers; eggs; Temple oranges, grapefruit, D'Anjou pears, and the three vegetables highlighted above.

A breakdown of beef costs measured in serving-per-pound and cost-per-serving (figured on consensus price in the area) provides these interesting comparisons: In the steak picture, sirloins provide two and one-half servings per pound at a standard serving cost of 29c; porterhouse two servings per pound at 44c per serving, and round steak three and one-half servings per pound at 20c per serving. In the roast department, chucks provide two servings per pound, 17c per serving; standing rib two servings per pound, 30c per serving, and rump roast three servings per pound, 28c per serving. Consensus prices logged at local outlets include:

Beef— Better-value steaks and roasts range generally lower than last week, for example: steak—sirloin, 69-79c off as much as 10c; porterhouse, steady at 89c; round 59-69c off as much as 10c. Roasts—blade cut, 35c off 4c; round bone, 49-55c off as much as 6c; rib, 55-59c off 4c, and rump, steady at 85c. Economy beef cheap.

Pork—Values are relatively hard to find, with hog prices pegged 27% higher than two months ago. Most quotes are higher this week than last, the major exception being chops. Prices expected to hold high for another two weeks before sliding off to real retail and consumer values. End chops range 35-43c, center cuts 79-85c. Fresh Boston roasts and spare ribs reach 43c respectively, with a top range of 49c. Loin end roasts bring 55c, and companion rib ends 39c as a starter. Bacon typifies the stronger priced cured pork items, top quality brands mostly 60c. Cured Boston butt is 65c and larger, smoked hams are bargains at 55c for the whole or shank end. Exception to upward moving prices continues to be sausage, country style bulk quoting 43c top link as low as 59c.

Lamb—Quotes are higher for top quality although forequarter cuts are really cheap. High quality, pink boned leg roasts are mostly higher at 59c.

Veal—Continues heavy in demand and higher in price.

Poultry—Deserves more attention this week, with turkey prices mostly 49c but as much as 4c lower for larger sizes (over 16 lbs). Fryers are down a penny, stewing hens also range widely in price by size, smaller birds (3 lbs) typically 35c. Capons quoting as low as 59c represent a good value attraction. Eggs are continuing top values, grade A large whites quoting 45c, jumbos 59c.

Produce—Rain in Florida and cold weather in Texas jump produce prices. Higher tags show on green beans, cabbage, cucumbers, peppers and green onions. Spanish onions also are up, but the reliable yellow globe variety remains steady at low price. Tomatoes and head lettuce are among better values noted. Potatoes show minor drop in price again against heavy storage stocks and the weight of new winter crops.

Fruit lines show Temple oranges the most newsworthy value, along with the peak supplies of grapefruit and juice oranges from Florida.

Groceries—Retail promotions drop price tags for shortening, margarine and salad oils, rather than the supply situation. Against this,

If your home-made soup has an excess of fat, wrap an ice cube in cheesecloth and run it across the top of the soup. The fat will then stick to the cold surface of the cloth.

Your home is a happy castle when you—its Queen—crown the family feasts with tempting and delicious homemade cakes and pies.

And in happy castles for generations, Ceresota flour has been the favorite among smart homemakers who know their baking. Its UNBLEACHED, NATURAL WHITENESS makes Ceresota distinctly different from other flours. Ceresota adds the natural goodness which assures full flavor, better texture, and finer appearance in your cakes and baked goods—every time.

Yet, with all its advantages, Ceresota costs you no more!

Remove onion odor from hands by moistening and rubbing with damp salt.

Here's a two-loaf recipe for Raisin Egg Bread that's sure to mean double enjoyment for the whole family—especially on these cold winter days.

Boston Raisin Egg Bread

Ingredients

- 2 cups milk
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 small cakes yeast (or dry active yeast)
- 2 tablespoons soft shortening
- 7 cups Ceresota unbleached flour
- 1 egg
- 1 cup raisins (soaked in warm water 10 minutes and drained)

Scald milk, add shortening, sugar, salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add yeast, dissolve. Add egg. Add flour in 2 additions, mix well. Add raisins, turn on floured board. Knead until smooth. Place in greased bowl; cover, let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Punch down. Let rise again until light, about 30 minutes. Divide into 2 dough pieces, let rest 10 minutes. Shape into loaves, place in greased bread pans, cover, let rise until sides of dough reach top of pan—about 1 hour. Bake in 425° oven about 35 minutes or until done.

wholesale prices continue upward. One brand of shortening, for instance, prices at 3 lbs. 59c. Margarine is off 2c at a 29c shelf price. Canned corn continues to get cut-price treatment with government blessing, although other heavy supply items, such as tomatoes, continue unchanged as yet in grocery departments.

Chicago Medical Society to Hold Clinical Conference

CHICAGO—Some of the nation's most eminent medical scientists will lecture at the four-day Annual Clinical Conference of the Chicago Medical Society in the Palmer House, March 5 through 8. Over 6,500 physicians and other guests are expected to attend.

Rated as one of the outstanding medical meetings in the country, the Conference each year attracts an ever greater number of physician guests from other parts of the nation. The 1956 total of out-of-state visitors was more than 1,000.

Thirty-five scientific papers, dealing with the latest advances in medical treatment and procedures, will be presented. The subjects range from tummy pains in children to the nervous and mental disturbances of the elderly.

Heart ailments, abdominal bleeding, backaches, hearing, accident prevention in children, use of hormones, diabetes, arthritis and "delivery by appointment" will be among the topics discussed by medical experts.

In addition to the lectures there will be daily panel discussions, luncheon roundtables, clinics and closed circuit television presentations from Cook County Hospital.

"The program has been arranged to interest general practitioners as well as specialists," said Dr. Karl F. Meyer, president of the Chicago Medical Society. "We believe it ranks the best postgraduate programs in the country. All licensed physicians, residents, interns and senior medical students are invited to attend."

He pointed out that there also would be a group of carefully selected contributions to medical science presented in exhibit form, together with over 100 technical exhibits.

Yours for Safe Keeping . . . 1957

What causes traffic accidents—weather conditions, road conditions, vehicle conditions? These all have some part in the total traffic picture. But it's the driver's own conditions, both mental and physical, that cause a great many of the accidents that you read and hear about day by day. You may find somewhere in the accident report that the driver in an accident was tired, angry, inattentive, or even had been drinking. Harder to find in the report would be the driver's mental state at the time of the accident. In many cases the driver didn't KNOW, didn't THINK or didn't CARE about the possibility of having an accident.

How can he be made more aware of the danger he is causing to himself and everyone else?

One good way is by an active community campaign against such thinking. And that's where you and I come in. Our local safety organizations need our active support. Let's all BACK THE ATTACK on traffic accidents. Join the fight for for life . . . yours and mine.

Opportunities for Women In Navy's Special Program

During World War II, many new career fields opened to women in the Armed Forces. Although the need for women specialists is not as great at the present time, there are still opportunities for qualified women to affiliate themselves with the Navy's special programs, and continue in their chosen civilian career fields. Such specialties as engineering, electronics, intelligence, aerology, nursing, medicine, dentistry, psychology, occupational therapy, business administration, public relations, economics, dietetics, physiotherapy, education, commerce, public health, communications, physics, journalism, biochemistry, bacteriology, meteorology, and foreign languages are open as well as special programs for medical and dental students.

Women medical and dental students, if qualified, may receive assistance in completing medical and dental school. Women in electronics and engineering fields can work closely with the Navy in aeronautical engineering and nuclear research. Occupational and physiotherapists may receive financial assistance in completing the courses necessary for registration in their fields.

Many women today hold inactive Navy commissions in their specialties. In many instances active duty is not required. This means that interested career women may continue with their civilian jobs and at the same time, keep up with the ever-expanding advancements and techniques of their military counterparts. Women applicants for officer commissions should be between the ages of 21 and 28 for the majority of the Navy's programs, although several have higher age maximums. Complete information may be obtained at any Office of Naval Officer Procurement, or Navy Recruiting Station.

Too much water can be just as bad as too little for your grass crop. For best results, find out which forage crops are best suited to the moisture content of your land; then choose special grasses for the wet spots.

U. of I. Consumer Service Sizes Up Food Markets

CHICAGO— Beef, potatoes and gravy easily becomes the top menu of the week in this the nation's No. 1 beef center, as the little pig that came to market in increasing numbers soared to new highs instead of tumbling prices as expected.

For variety, round out the menu with selected lamb items, or turkey and lower priced fryers. At breakfast serve top-value, low-priced eggs. Cook with retail-promoted, branded vegetable fats and oils that also are lower priced, and you have this week's market opportunities well in hand.

The University of Illinois consumer service, sizing up Chicago-area retail food markets, also points out that homemakers who want to lay in home freezer supplies can do very well in purchasing forequarter beef cuts and steaks, and forequarter lamb.

Buyers showed obvious expressions of amazement as porkers moved to a 19 month high in increased stockyard arrivals that many expected would drop prices sooner. This is considered to be the midwest peak in price and with eastern buyers leaving the Chicago scene, more supplies are expected to remain at home. Prices should drop in a couple weeks.

Meanwhile, fresh vegetable prices jumped sharply at all market levels on reports of weather-damaged crops, with the major exception of potatoes, tomatoes and lettuce. Potatoes are the subject of over supply. Tomatoes are little more than half the asking price of a year ago. And lettuce abounds in better quality and supply at lowest prices of many weeks.

This leads the U of I to spot as top values for the week ending Feb. 2 sirloin, porterhouse and round steaks, and chuck, standing rib and rump roasts; selected lamb items; turkey and fryers; eggs; Temple oranges, grapefruit, D'Anjou pears, and the three vegetables highlighted above.

A breakdown of beef costs measured in serving-per-pound and cost-per-serving (figured on consensus price in the area) provides these interesting comparisons: In the steak picture, sirloins provide two and one-half servings per pound at a standard serving cost of 29c; porterhouse two servings per pound at 44c per serving, and round steak three and one-half servings per pound at 20c per serving. In the roast department, chucks provide two servings per pound, 17c per serving; standing rib two servings per pound, 30c per serving, and rump roast three servings per pound, 28c per serving. Consensus prices logged at local outlets include:

Beef— Better-value steaks and roasts range generally lower than last week, for example: steak—sirloin, 69-79c off as much as 10c; porterhouse, steady at 89c; round 59-69c off as much as 10c. Roasts—blade cut, 35c off 4c; round bone, 49-55c off as much as 6c; rib, 55-59c off 4c, and rump, steady at 85c. Economy beef cheap.

Pork—Values are relatively hard to find, with hog prices pegged 27% higher than two months ago. Most quotes are higher this week than last, the major exception being chops. Prices expected to hold high for another two weeks before sliding off to real retail and consumer values. End chops range 35-43c, center cuts 79-85c. Fresh Boston roasts and spare ribs reach 43c respectively, with a top range of 49c. Loin end roasts bring 55c, and companion rib ends 39c as a starter. Bacon typifies the stronger priced cured pork items, top quality brands mostly 69c. Cured Boston butt is 65c and larger, smoked hams are bargains at 55c for the whole or shank end. Exception to upward moving prices continues to be sausage, country style bulk quoting 43c top link as low as 59c.

Lamb— Quotes are higher for top quality although forequarter cuts are really cheap. High quality, pink boned leg roasts are mostly higher at 59c.

Veal— Continues heavy in demand and higher in price. Poultry— Deserves more attention this week, with turkey prices mostly 49c but as much as 4c lower for larger sizes (over 16 lbs). Fryers are down a penny, stewing hens also range widely in price by size, smaller birds (3 lbs) typically 35c. Capons quoting as low as 59c represent a good value attraction. Eggs are continuing top values, grade A large whites quoting 45c, jumbos 59c.

Produce— Rain in Florida and cold weather in Texas jump produce prices. Higher tags show on green beans, cabbage, cucumbers, peppers and green onions. Spanish onions also are up, but the reliable yellow globe variety remains steady at low price. Tomatoes and head lettuce are among better values noted. Potatoes show minor drop in price again against heavy storage stocks and the weight of new winter crops.

Fruit lines show Temple oranges the most newsworthy value, along with the peak supplies of grapefruit and juice oranges from Florida.

Groceries— Retail promotions drop price tags for shortening, margarine and salad oils, rather than the supply situation. Against this,

If your home-made soup has an excess of fat, wrap an ice cube in cheesecloth and run it across the top of the soup. The fat will then stick to the cold surface of the cloth.

Your home is a happy castle when you—its Queen—crown the family feasts with tempting and delicious homemade cakes and pies.

And in happy castles for generations, Ceresota flour has been the favorite among smart homemakers who know their baking. Its UNBLEACHED, NATURAL WHITENESS makes Ceresota distinctly different from other flours. Ceresota adds the natural goodness which assures full flavor, better texture, and finer appearance in your cakes and baked goods—every time.

Yet, with all its advantages, Ceresota costs you no more!

Remove onion odor from hands by moistening and rubbing with damp salt.

Boston Raisin Egg Bread

Ingredients
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 small cakes yeast
(or dry active yeast)
2 tablespoons soft shortening
7 cups Ceresota unbleached flour
1 egg
1 cup raisins (soaked in warm water 10 minutes and drained)

Scald milk, add shortening, sugar, salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add yeast, dissolve. Add egg. Add flour in 2 additions, mix well. Add raisins, turn on floured board. Knead until smooth. Place in greased bowl; cover, let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Punch down. Let rise again until light, about 30 minutes. Divide into 2 dough pieces, let rest 10 minutes. Shape into loaves, place in greased bread pans, cover, let rise until sides of dough reach top of pan—about 1 hour. Bake in 425° oven about 35 minutes or until done.

Ceresota
Unbleached Naturally White
FLOUR

Look for valuable coupon with every bag

wholesale prices continue upward. One brand of shortening, for instance, prices at 3 lbs. 59c. Margarine is off 2c at a 29c shelf price. Canned corn continues to get cut-price treatment with government blessing, although other heavy supply items, such as tomatoes, continue unchanged as yet in grocery departments.

County Bought $6,461,465 In Savings Bonds in 1956

Lake County residents purchased a total of $6,461,465 in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in 1956, according to figures received from the Treasury Department by James E. Brown of Waukegan and Philip L. Spedel of Lake Forest, Volunteer Savings Bonds Co-County Chairman. This represents 91.0% of the County's 1956 sales quota. Sales in the month of December totaled $382,609.

T. Merle Paul, State Director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division, announced that sales of E and H bonds in the state of Illinois totaled $458,094,676, for the year 1956, representing 89.9% of the annual quota. Sales in the state for 1956 were 9.6

per cent lower than last year's total. Fifty counties in Illinois reached the quotas assigned them for the year, according to Mr. Paul, and Illinois led all large industrial states in percentage of quota achieved. Sales for the month of December in the state were $20,437,112; this is a decrease of 15.7% from last December's sales.

Pennsylvania, the nation's second largest producer of bituminous coal, crossed the 8,000,000,000-ton production mark just before the end of 1956. Bituminous is mined in 30 Pennsylvania counties and the record goes back to 1800.

Harder to find in the report would be the driver's mental state at the time of the accident. In many cases the driver didn't KNOW, didn't THINK or didn't CARE about the possibility of having an accident.

How can he be made more aware of the danger he is causing to himself and everyone else?

One good way is by an active community campaign against such thinking. And that's where you and I come in. Our local safety organizations need our active support. Let's all BACK THE ATTACK on traffic accidents. Join the fight for for life . . . yours and mine.

Opportunities for Women In Navy's Special Program

During World War II, many new career fields opened to women in the Armed Forces. Although the need for women specialists is not as great at the present time, there are still opportunities for qualified women to affiliate themselves with the Navy's special programs, and continue in their chosen civilian career fields. Such specialties as engineering, electronics, intelligence, aerology, nursing, medicine, dentistry, psychology, occupational therapy, business administration, public relations, economics, dietetics, physiotherapy, education, commerce, public health, communications, physics, journalism, biochemistry, bacteriology, meteorology, and foreign languages are open as well as special programs for medical and dental students.

Women medical and dental students, if qualified, may receive assistance in completing medical and dental school. Women in electronics and engineering fields can work closely with the Navy in aeronautical engineering and nuclear research. Occupational and physiotherapists may receive financial assistance in completing the courses necessary for registration in their fields.

Many women today hold inactive Navy commissions in their specialties. In many instances active duty is not required. This means that interested career women may continue with their civilian jobs and at the same time, keep up with the ever-expanding advancements and techniques of their military counterparts. Women applicants for officer commissions should be between the ages of 21 and 28 for the majority of the Navy's programs, although several have higher age maximums. Complete information may be obtained at any Office of Naval Officer Procurement, or Navy Recruiting Station.

Too much water can be just as bad as too little for your grass crop. For best results, find out which forage crops are best suited to the moisture content of your land; then choose special grasses for the wet spots.

Tax on Equal Basis At Township Level Needed Says McClory

By Senator Robert McClory
With 31 more members of the Illinois General Assembly than ever before in Illinois' 139 years of statehood as a result of reapportionment (24 additional Representatives and 7 additional Senators) we can expect more lawmaking than in any previous session.

It is probable that many bad and unnecessary laws will be passed along with some much needed legislation. In his Inaugural address, Governor Stratton outlined many of the important measures with which the General Assembly will struggle, and about which we will be reading during the coming months. This and succeeding articles will discuss those subjects of great concern to the citizens of Lake, McHenry and Boone Counties (52nd Senatorial District) served by your state senator.

In our area of relatively high assessments and large real estate tax bills, no legislation is more important than that which will provide for equalization of assessments at the township level. Whether this is done by the Department of Revenue, a State Equalization Board or other authority is of small consequence. The essential point is that large state grants for schools and other purposes should be measured on local needs only after there has been a uniform local effort. A McHenry County taxpayer who pays a real estate tax bill based upon a 70 per cent assessed valuation to support local schools and other services should not have his sales tax dollars diverted to some other county where property assessments range from 5 per cent to 20 per cent—and where the state pays most of the bills for supporting the local schools.

A bill sponsored by your State Senator in the 1955 session to require tax equalization as between townships failed to pass. But in 1957, the result should be different. Legislation to equalize local assessments is part of the program of the School Problems Commission. The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce also is supporting such a program. It was a prominent part of Governor Stratton's inaugural address. It is item number one on the legislative agenda of your state senator.

The present tendency to relegate local problems to Springfield and Washington must be retarded. By requiring local assessments to be determined under a uniform set of rules, and to be substantially equal throughout the state, we can accomplish two important results, namely: (1) encourage local responsibility for local needs, and (2) distribute state funds on an equitable basis dependent on real local need.

There is no reason why a home, factory or farm of equal value with another identical home, factory or farm in another part of the county or state should not be valued for tax purposes on exactly the same basis. This is particularly true where claims are made for state assistance (as with the common school fund) on the ground that local taxes are insufficient to meet local needs.

To correct such inequitable situations is the goal of Governor Stratton and of your State Senator.

1957 Home Decorating Needs Careful Planning

Like a vacation, decorating a home can be fun if you map a course ahead. But, if you get lost, detours are costly.

Your way of living is the first thing to consider when you're decorating, says an article in the Feb. issue of Successful Farming magazine. Talk over with every member of the family styles of furniture, colors, and uses to which rooms will be put.

Deciding how much money to spend is something only you can decide, but set up a budget, buy first things first, and plan ahead for less important items. Trial-and-error buying can be costly, so buy with a plan in mind.

Next, itemize each room and make a list of the things you can keep. Then, make a list of what you need, not only furniture but more storage, painting, papering, and remodeling costs.

"Window-shop" first, collect samples, and buy later is a good yardstick to follow, advises the magazine. When shopping, take a sketched floor plan of each room with you.

New Kind of Auto Travel, No Stop Lights

New York to Chicago without a red light? It's possible, thanks to an 830-mile unbroken chain of turnpikes, according to Carol Lane, women's travel director, Shell Oil Company. Joined in one continuous route, the New Jersey Turnpike, Pennsylvania Turnpike, Ohio Turnpike, and the Indiana Toll Road offer the longest stretch of four-lane, divided highway in the world.

Recently Miss Lane made this trip. Here's some information she picked up on the Ohio Turnpike, a typical link in this modern magic carpet:

There are 16 Service Plazas, open 24 hours a day, offering food, gasoline, oil and service.

Separate parking areas and fuel pumps for automobiles and trucks are provided at each Service Plaza. Special "Speed change" lanes let the driver slow down gradually when approaching a Plaza, and pick up speed when going back on to the turnpike.

Changes in weather and other factors affecting road conditions are posted promptly at the entrance toll booths.

Special officers of the Ohio State Highway Patrol cruise the turnpike night and day, to help any motorist in trouble and insure the safety of all drivers.

Emergency vehicle service is available all the time. If you need help, park on the outside (right-hand) paved shoulder, reserved for emergency parking only. Hang a handkerchief from the window or raise the car's hood (or both) as a signal. A two-way radio system links all official turnpike vehicles, maintenance buildings and toll plazas, and help is on the way in a jiffy.

Do You Remember The "Good Old Days"?

Thrills and hazards of the Model T Ford are recalled by Robert Strother in a nostalgic article, "A Flivver for the Family," in the February Reader's Digest.

Until the pilots a space ship around the moon, Mr. Strother says he will not have the equal of the thrill he experienced as a boy in Winfield, Kansas, when he first drove a new Model T for which his father paid $440 on Christmas Eve in 1917.

"Fords were notoriously allergic to cold," recalls the writer. "Model T's were started, when they cranked . . . The crank frequently kicked . . . Right arms in casts were as familiar a feature of the American winter scene of 40 years ago as are legs in casts at ski lodges and sports resorts today . . ."

"Another recurrent hazard of Model T motoring was running out of gas. There was no gasoline gauge, and to find out how much fuel was left, the operator first had to evict any front-seat passengers and remove the seat cushion. A slatted cover was then raised, the gas-tank cap removed and a graduated stick inserted in the tank. . . .

"To measure the oil supply was even more of a nuisance. You crawled under the car and opened a petcock. If oil ran out, you had oil."

Despite hardships like these, for nearly two decades, between 1908 and 1927, reports Mr. Strother, "flivvers swarmed in their millions from the assembly lines in Detroit and became known and loved throughout the world."

Zoning Laws Important To Growing Community

Zoning is vital to "Keeping the kitchen stove out of the parlor," says Stuart Chase, noted author. And it's up to every citizen to learn about zoning, particularly in this town. Pointing to the New York Times study which found that more than 100 million Americans now live under zoning laws, Chase declares in an article "Zoning Comes to Town" in the February Reader's Digest:

"Zoning is about one-third law and two-thirds human relations. If there is no mutual trust between the zoning officials and the townspeople, zoning might as well go out the window."

But he is firmly convinced that zoning is — and must be — here to stay, expanded and improved. He adds:

"A massive migration of homes and industries is in progress from cities to suburbs, bringing problems of increased car and truck traffic, housing, water supply, schools and recreation areas, the location of factories and shopping centers. Shall we let expansion range unchecked, with an oil refinery in the middle of a residential district, a hot-dog stand on the village green? Or shall we attempt to find the best places for factories, stores, schools and homes?"

Proving that an author can do more than punch a typewriter, Chase has been secretary of the Zoning Board of Appeals in his Connecticut town for six years. He reports that year after year the town rejected zoning. Called it unconstitutional.

"Then a small drug plant with a big smell began to operate in one of our residential areas," he says. "Overnight a town meeting was called, and zoning was adopted hands down."

He reports that there have been complications, but that six years the town Zoning Board of Appeals has granted 72 per cent of all applications, and there has been no formal court case yet.

Chase agrees that zoning is primarily a protective operation—keeping a town from growing worse, but not making it better. He recommends the latest action of his town—forming of a local planning committee.

Milk production in 1957 is estimated officially at a new record of 130-billion pounds, reports the Jan. issue of Successful Farming magazine. This compares with 127 to 128 billion last year.

But milk surpluses won't rise above 1956 levels, the magazine predicts. The expanding population is expected to consume 2 billion pounds more milk than last year. The surplus is likely to continue at last year's level of 5 billion pounds.

Grade School Dist. 34...

grade. Eight classrooms and the kindergarten, a nurse's room, teachers' room, office, kitchen, and an all-purpose room which could also serve as a cafeteria would be completed this fall. The remaining eight classroom shell would be completed as needed from yearly tax income, probably two rooms a year. Already there are 226 pupils in the area that the school will serve and it is expected that this number will increase to 260 by the time the building is built. The entire 17 rooms probably would be in use by 1960.

More Direct Bus Routes

Supt. Richard Whitaker pointed out that establishing of the new school will mean more direct bus routes and better service.

A junior high school is not the answer to the overcrowding, according to Norman Jedele, president of the Board of Education who has submitted the following statement:

Junior High Not Answer

Many people are asking school officials "why not build a Junior High School instead of building classrooms as proposed at the Oakland site?"

It should be pointed out that the overcrowding pressure in the grade school is coming from the lower grades and from pre-school children.

The survey made by members of the P. T. A. in October 1956 showed the big push coming up from the little fellows, not yet in school—the 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 year olds. The P.T.A. survey showed that besides the 78 kindergarten children (5 year olds) enrolled in our school at that time there were 28 who had not enrolled in the school for one reason or another, mainly because of the lack of transportation.

Had there been a Junior High School in existence this year that could have served the 7th and 8th grades, it would have vacated 4
